Stroudsburg Authority Accepts Water System

STROUDSBURG Municipal Authority formally accepted the borough's new $800,000 water system at a meeting last night in the Municipal Building.

The action came following a final inspection of the facilities yesterday afternoon and upon the recommendations of Albright and Friel, consulting engineers.

Crowe Insurance Agency was authorized to provide a $250,000 binder fire insurance policy on the new filter plant until Albright and Friel can compute and recommend permanent coverage figures.

The authority scheduled for next Monday night an inspection of the plant by members of Stroudsburg and Stroud Township Fire Departments.

Public inspection tours of the facilities will begin next Tuesday from 6 to 10 p.m. William A. Curnow, water department superintendent, and his assistants will conduct the tours.

The authority also voted to ask the Middle Atlantic Assn. of Fire Underwriters to run tests on the new system with a view to establishing lower fire insurance rates in the borough—particularly in the business district.

Prior to the meeting, the authority was entertained at a dinner in the Penn-Stroud Hotel by officials of Albright and Friel.

In other action at last night's meeting, the authority:

Authorized expenditure of approximately $3,000 for a new cutting machine and installation costs at the sewage treatment plant, subject to approval by Borough Council.

Authorized advertising for bids for 1,000 feet of six inch pipe to be stockpiled for water department use as needed.

Referred to Curnow a request by Marsh for permission for the fire department to take readings on hydrants. Curnow said details can be worked out in a week to 10 days.

Took no formal action upon a letter from Harold E. Albert, secretary of Stroud Township supervisors, protesting that the authority had not repaired township roads as promised after installations were made.

Harold E. Snyder, borough manager, told the authority all the roads referred to in Albert's letter except one have been taken care of. He promised to investigate the remaining complaint.

Senate Votes Freeze On State Aid

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Republican Senate, beating down Democratic objections, Monday night passed a plan to freeze state aid for schools to districts facing cuts because of revised real estate valuations.

A 34-11 vote sent the measure to the House where the Lawrence administration will make its last stand to impose its own program for softening the impact of reduced state aid.

The Senate measure would give school districts at least the same subsidies in the 1960-61 school year as they will receive in the coming school year.

Under a State Tax Equalization Board report on 1958 real estate market valuations, 2,000 school districts stand to lose seven million dollars in state aid in 1960-61. The remaining 350 districts, including Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, would gain about 3 million under the 1958 report.

Administration Plan

The administration plan is to let the 1958 report take its effect, but school districts would lose no more than 25 per cent of the state aid in 1960-61 that they received in 1959-60. In the following year, the figure would rise to 50 per cent and the third year, 75 per cent.

Although six Democrats finally voted for the Senate-passed plan, Sen. Joseph M. Barr (D-Allentown) attacked it because it would work against the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh school districts.

If the situation had been reversed—rural districts gaining, metropolitan districts losing—would such a bill ever have been sponsored by Senate Republicans, he asked.

"The shoe is on the other foot," Barr said in predicting the measure, as approved by the Senate, would never pass the House.

The Senate voted down along party lines a Democratic amendment to incorporate the administration's plan for dealing with the state aid problem.

Sen. Paul L. Wagner (R-Schuylkill) said he had favored the tax equalization board program over the years—that this was the first time he took exception to its annual report.

"This is the first time all but one or two school districts are kicked in the teeth," Wagner said.

The board's real estate market valuations are a key factor in calculating state aid for schools.

Other legislative developments: Taxes—Sen. Albert R. Pechan (R-Armstrong) sponsored a measure to impose the 4 per cent tax on across-the-bar drinks.

As signed into law last week, the measure applies only to retail sales made by beer distributors and state liquor stores.

Sen. Z. H. Confair (R-Lycoming) and three other senators offered similar legislation dealing with soft drinks which he said would yield an additional 3 million dollars.

Consumer Level

The sales tax, first applied to soft drinks last Thursday, is imposed only when soda pop is purchased from bottlers or distributors. The new Senate bill would place it at the consumer level such as when purchased at the supermarket.

Unemployment Compensation—Gov. Lawrence called on the Legislature to enact an "above average" subsidy benefits program to meet the problems of Pennsylvania's unemployed.

The Senate and House each received bills to increase maximum weekly benefits from $35 to $42 by 1961, a scaled system of payroll taxes to finance benefits and tightening of eligibility requirements for checks.

The legislation incorporated the governor's recommendations that the present employer-paid payroll tax of 2.7 per cent be revised to new rates ranging between 1.6 per cent and 4 per cent, effective Jan. 1.

RETURN TO WORK—Workmen on the new Women's Dormitory building on the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College campus are shown at their jobs yesterday following an agreement reached between the unions and the contractor Saturday. ### Work Resumes On Project At College

SERENITY seemed to prevail today as workmen returned to their jobs constructing the new Science Building and Women's Dormitory on the campus of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Despite the return of the workers, the Ironworkers, who began the almost week-long layoff by picketing the sites for a half-day a week ago, were forced to leave their jobs when yesterday's rain started and it became impossible for them to work.

In speaking with Harold Fisk, superintendent for the Boyd Kline firm which is building the two buildings, the Daily Record learned the layoff postponed the finish of the construction by four days, and this time, Fisk said, must be made up before the work on the Science Building is completed.

Fisk said, however, that the building may be completed in about six weeks. He said he could only guess that this would be the finish date.

The return to work yesterday marked the end of the fourth strike on the two jobs since the beginning last March.

Negotiations led to the settlement of the differences Saturday afternoon in a conference between Kline and his representatives, and union officials George Wilson, for the Building Trades Council, and Robert Moyer, for the Iron-

Classrooms To Be Ready In Year

BRODHEADSVILLE — Classrooms and administrative offices in Pleasant Valley Jointure's new high school will be ready for use by Sept. 1, 1960, if construction goes according to schedule, William Bell said last night.

Bell represented Goodman and Bell, Inc., Allentown, one of the four contractors who signed contract agreements with the jointure board at Chestnut-hill High School.

Bell said the entire school building should be completed by December, 1960.

The school's foundation should be in before snow this Winter, he said, but there will be no steel for the school until about 15 weeks after the end of the steel strike.

It should take that long for his order to be filled once steel production begins again, Bell said.

Quick Action

His company will erect construction shacks on the "cabbage patch," site of the new school here this week, and ground will be broken next week, Bell reported.

Key workers and tradesmen will come from the Allentown area for the construction project but labor will be hired through unions at the school site, he said.

Other contractors signing agreements last night were Larry S. Stout, Leighton, electrical bidder, M. F. Weiss, Inc., Brodheadsville, plumbing bidder, and Joseph A. Rado, Berwick, heating and ventilating bidder.

Officers of the jointure board signed copies of the school blue print plans and specifications.

Coed Found Dying In Artist's Flat

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A nude coed who ran screaming from her attacker was found stabbed and dying in her fiancé's flat Sunday night.

Police launched a search for a mysterious intruder as her slayer, Linda Edna Martin, 21, a talented pianist and graduate music student, made a desperate effort to escape her assailant. She fled, unclothed and shrieking in terror, down a stairway to a side entrance, where she smashed a door's glass pane in a frantic effort to get away.

But she failed to break out, and collapsed inside. Officers found her there, bleeding from a stab wound in the right breast, her hands gashed by the shattered glass.

She died before she could identify her killer.

An autopsy report said she had not been raped. Dr. Don Harper Mills, deputy medical examiner, said a long, sharp weapon pierced her heart. He also found cuts on her chest and arms, a bruise around her left eye and bruises on her legs.

Neighbors who heard her screams and the breaking glass summoned police. But no one, apparently, saw anyone leave the flat.

G. Robert Kinzie, 27, bearded, balding art student who occupied the flat, told police he had been at an automatic laundry with three male friends, arriving home at 1:25 a.m. Monday. Officers accepted his explanation.

Miss Martin was an accomplished pianist and harpist. Like Kinzie, she was a graduate student at nearby University of Southern California.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Martin of nearby North Hollywood, said they knew Kinzie but were not aware the couple planned to marry.

Officers said Miss Martin was married once, to John Taylor, of Glenview, Ill., and Brooklyn, N.Y. She obtained an annulment last year at nearby Burbank, Calif., where her Superior Court complaint said the marriage had never been consummated because of physical incapacities.

Miss Martin was interested in jazz, worked on the student newspaper, and was a member of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People at Oberlin.

Kinzie, speaking of their romance, said: "This was a fine, genuine thing."

Rayburn Pushes Increase In Gasoline Tax Through Reluctant House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Speaker Sam Rayburn Monday pushed through a reluctant committee a proposal to raise the U. S. gasoline tax from 3 to 4 cents a gallon for a 12-month period to prevent stalling of the federal superhighway program.

After a series of conferences with his party leaders, the Texas Democrat announced approval of this compromise by 18 of the 22 Democrats on the Public Works Committee. This group last week balked after the House Ways and Means Committee had tentatively approved a 1-cent increase for a 22-month period. President Eisenhower had called for a boost of 1½ cents.

But while advocates of a gas tax increase appeared to be gaining ground in the House, a coauthor of the basic 1956 Highway Act, Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.), called any such boost "wholly without justification." In its stead, he offered a measure to earmark one per cent of all 1959 general appropriations for the highway program.

Diversion of Funds

Under the Rayburn compromise diversion of funds from new car, parts and accessories excise tax revenues would begin July 1, 1960, instead of July 1, 1961, as proposed under the bill approved by the Ways and Means Committee.

In a prepared Senate speech, Gore said a gas tax increase of one cent would fall more than 100 million dollars short of meeting the estimated highway program deficit of 433 millions for the fiscal year ending next June 30. At present rates of consumption, a one-cent increase made effective Sept. 1, would yield about 280 millions.

Gore's proposal would allow Eisenhower to exempt "fixed statutory requirements such as veterans' pensions" from the one per cent set aside. But, even allowing for this, the Tennessee estimated the yield at between 500 and 700 millions.

Strauss To Visit Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has asked Lewis L. Strauss to come in to see him Tuesday.

The White House provided no information on the reason for the conference with Strauss whose nomination to be secretary of commerce was rejected by the Senate last June.

Strauss is a New York investment banker who has held a number of government posts under several presidents.

FOREST PARK — of all personalities in the labor movement, possibly no one stands out more than Walter Reuther, head of the huge United Auto Workers Union.

Several small stories picked up at Unity House, during last week's session of the AFL-CIO Executive Council, concern the reasons why he purchased his Summer home in a Detroit suburb.

Reuther and his family, usually joined by his brothers' and sister's families, spent their Summer vacations at a small Michigan lake resort. That is, up until 1948.

After the attempt on Reuther's life in that year, in which he sustained a bullet wound in his left arm, the family went to the resort as usual, but were confronted with a unique situation.

The resort owner told Reuther that, while he and the rest of the lake's visitors enjoyed the Reuthers and their families, they could not rent them a cottage for another season. The reason given was simply this: The other guests feared a second attempt on his life, and in connection with this, also feared that one or more of them might also be victims of such an attempt.

Reuther understood and began looking around for a summer home for his family to purchase as a permanent residence.

He found such a spot on a small stream not too distant from the city of Detroit and his office.

Later, after he had made some improvements to the place over a number of years, he was at a labor convention in Miami Beach, and was told of a rumor circulating to the effect that certain members of his staff spent weekends at Reuther's Summer home putting hours in constructing a swimming pool. The men, rumor had it, were forced to excavate, mix cement and do the actual job of laying the tile used in the pool's walls.

Upon learning of this, Reuther immediately contacted one of his chief staff members and asked how he could scotch such a rumor.

The staff member suggested he invite all the press, radio and television broadcasters to an afternoon buffet, since they had also heard the rumor, and give them proof of the rumor's being false.

When the afternoon and guests arrived they found, not really to their surprise, that Reuther did not even have a swimming pool.

Several of the guests, however, on seeing the stream asked if there were any fish in it, and Reuther said it had any number of large, fine trout.

One of the places Reuther pointed out was a rather deep pool in which he said lay one of the biggest uncaught trout in any stream in Michigan.

An ardent fisherman among the group asked Reuther if he could borrow his rod, and made one cast into the pool. He caught the extra large trout and landed it in front of the admiring throng, and an almost ecstatic Reuther.

The fish, however, didn't seem to care for the assembled company and flopped back into the stream.

Neither Reuther, nor anyone else has managed to even get a nibble from the trout since.

But Reuther's staff member insists that Reuther keeps trying—and hoping.

Conferees Reach Agreement On Labor Reform Bill Points

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate-House conferees hammered out agreements Monday on three disputed points in the labor control bill. But they remained at odds on some of the most controversial issues.

Many Missing In Quake Area Located

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (AP)—A list of persons who were unreported since last week's Montana earthquake was made public by the Red Cross Monday—and almost immediately many of the people were located alive and well.

The list contained 88 names when it was issued, but within a few hours it was trimmed to about 50.

Typical were these cases:

Milford Kellogg, an employee of the Atomic Energy Commission living at Damascus, Md., checked into a convention at Boulder, Colo., where he was a delegate.

Friends in Pendleton, Ore., heard from the Oliver Calhoun family, named on the list, saying they never did go to the quake area. Similar word was received from the Rev. Alfred D. Enns, his wife and two sons, of Portland, Ore.

Fellow Employees

Fellow employees of Lloyd Webster at Santa Rosa, Calif., got a postcard from him saying, "It sure was some quake." The card was mailed last Tuesday, the day after the quake.

Army engineers expressed concern at Omaha about a possible flood on the Madison River from the rapidly filling "quake lake" behind the 50-million ton rock slide which blocked the stream seven miles below Hebgen Dam.

In a daylong session behind closed doors, the conferees accepted a Senate provision which would give replaced strikers the right to vote in a bargaining election.

This would wipe out a section of the Taft-Hartley law which denies this right. Critics have described this denial as union-busting.

However, the conferees put a nine-month limitation on the right. The Senate bill stipulated no such deadline.

The House bill did not have a comparable provision.

Rejection

The conferees rejected another important Senate provision setting up a system of prehearing elections in collective bargaining cases.

This was designed to prevent stalling tactics and use of time-consuming technicalities to prevent a decision.

Also killed by the conferees was a Senate provision that would have excluded service assistants in the telephone industry from the term supervisor and thus made them eligible for union membership.

This was not in the House bill.

One of the toughest nuts to be cracked, if a compromise is to take shape, is over the question of how to deal with "no-man's land cases"—labor disputes falling between federal and state jurisdiction.

Newlyweds Arrive In United States

NEW YORK (AP)—The lovebirds of the year, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Rockefeller, came back from their Norwegian wedding Monday and quickly set out "to disappear" for a month's American honeymoon.

Said 23-year-old Steven Rockefeller, an heir to millions but for the moment just another bridegroom: "Our plans are something we're keeping private because we would just like to have the next month to ourselves."

When last seen as they sped away from Idlewild Airport in a chauffeur-driven limousine Steven and his wife, the family's former maid, smiled and waved.

And the radiant bride Anne Marie blew kisses to her in-laws, Gov. and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Heartstrings

Their celebrated marriage in Anne Marie's Norwegian hometown Saturday tugged at the heartstrings of the week as it culminated a modern-day storybook romance and betrothal.

They slipped away from the cheering throngs and spent the night alone in the home of the bride's parents.

Then amid cheers of hundreds they and the other Rockefeller boarded a plane Sunday night and flew here by way of Copenhagen for an extended honeymoon. The trip, delayed somewhat in the beginning by minor plane trouble at Copenhagen, took 14 hours.

The newlyweds arrived shortly before 10 a.m. and hundreds more spectators voiced excited "oohs" and "aahs" as the couple rushed through immigration and customs formalities.

On hand also were about 50 reporters and photographers.

Two Bills Entered On Sales Tax

HARRISBURG (AP)—Two bills which would impose the state's four percent sales tax on soft drinks, liquor and beer at the consumer level were introduced in the Senate Monday night.

The measures would apply the sales tax to purchases of beverages across-the-board and to retail sales of soft drinks.

A bill which recently raised the three and a half percent rate to four percent extended the levy to alcoholic and soft drinks at the distributor level and to liquor at the state stores.

Sponsor

Sen. Albert R. Pechan (R-Armstrong), sponsor of the measure to tax alcoholic beverages at the consumer level, said the proposals would be better for both the tavern owners and the consumers and would bring in more revenue.

The proposal to make the tax on soft drinks apply on all retail sales of more than 10 cents was sponsored by Sens. Z. H. Confair (R-Lycoming), J. Irving Whalley (R-Somerset), Fred B. Rooney (D-Northampton) and Hugh J. McMenamin (D-Lackawanna).

Commissioners Dispute Bill For Location Of Telephone Poles

County To Pay Total Of $400

MONROE County Commissioners yesterday said they will pay only $400 of a $1,051 bill submitted to the county by the Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania for the resetting of a telephone line before construction of two county bridges a year ago.

Only one telephone pole was on the rights-of-way needed by the county for new bridge approaches, Myrton Finney, the company's plant project engineer, said, but moving it effected several other poles.

He said he was authorized to accept a county offer to pay about $600 of the bill.

Edward Hess, county engineer, said no actual figure for line replacements was mentioned at the time but it was his impression the amount of work would be small.

Commissioners said they were flabbergasted at the amount of the bill finally submitted to them. It included material and labor costs for five new poles besides the one directly affected, two new anchor guides, tree trimming and the re-routing of service lines to one house.

Finney said the relocating of the one pole made all these subsequent changes necessary.

Cause of the present dispute over the bill was the county's decision over a year ago to replace two outdated bridges on Township Route 508 in Smithfield and Stroud Townships. The road was relocated so new approaches could be made for the Angle and Posten bridges.

Hess reported to the commissioners that property owners being approached for rights-of-way needed for flood control projects in Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg have not been too receptive so far.

No contracts have yet been signed, he said. Borough managers are negotiating for the property settlements, but no deadline has been set by the State Department of Forests and Waters, he said.

100 Property Owners
Involved are some 30 property owners in Stroudsburg and 70 in East Stroudsburg.

In other business the commissioners set Sept. 28 as the tentative date for a general inspection tour of all county bridges with Hess.

The commissioners ordered property belonging to the Mount Zion Cemetery Assn., Hamilton Township, to be exonerated from the tax rolls.

A. J. Molitor, executive secretary of the Children's Aid Society of Monroe County, discussed with the commissioners their views on the nature of a possible foster day-care program in the county.

'World Peace' Goal Of Catholic Women

A GROUP of women from St. Matthew's Parish met last night at the Penn-Stroud Hotel. They have as their purpose the same goal as statesmen, prime ministers and world leaders.

The ambitious task of their deliberations will be those of President Eisenhower, Khrushchev and MacMillan. They are choosing as their goal "World Peace."

The means they have chosen to achieve this aim is a far different one than nuclear testing, mutual disarmament, or cultural exchanges. Their means is devotion to the Immaculate Heart of Mary, the Mother of God.

This devotion will be expressed in a campaign of Prayer and Penance advocated by Our Lady at Fatima in October of 1917 to three peasant children. Mary's Peace Plan was simple:

a return to God through Prayer... the Family Rosary, dedication of Russia to Her Immaculate Heart and assistance at Mass and Holy Communion on five consecutive Saturdays. Her second proposal was Penance.

At Fatima, Mary predicted the end of World War I and predicted that a more horrible war would come soon if man did not pray and repent. World War II has come and gone.

At this time She also prophesied Russia would grow strong and spread her errors throughout the world. This has come to pass Mary also at this time made predictions which will be revealed in 1960.

With so many of Her prophecies fulfilled the Scranston Diocesan Council of Catholic Women have chosen the months approaching 1960 as the time for a project to awaken souls to Mary's Peace Plan from Heaven... to stop world conflagration and through their promotion of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Crusade increase the prayer of the Rosary and the encouragement of personal sacrifice among the souls of the Scranston Diocese.

During the next 10 days the women who attended this meeting will visit every Catholic Home in the parish of St. Matthew's and its missions.

They will be asking every Catholic to pledge their support of Our Lady's requests at Fatima... and to make an effort to attend Mass and Holy Communion on three of her Feast Days in September: Sept. 8, Nativity of Our Blessed Mother; Sept. 12, Holy Name of Mary and Sept. 24, Our Lady of Mercy.

John Erthal, 12, 462 Morton St., Philadelphia, a camper in the area, was running when he fell and struck his knee on a rock. Eight stitches were required for a two and one-half inch laceration.

Raymond Snyder, 236 Carbon St., Lehighton, was treated for a three-inch laceration of his right leg. Five stitches were taken.

Robert Gibson, 15, 515 Ramsey Road, Oreland, Pa., was treated for an ankle injury of his right leg.

George Uhl Struck By Hit-Run Doe

NEWFOUNDLAND—Struck by a hit-run deer this week was George Uhl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Friend Uhl.

George, who came off second best in the encounter, was standing in a field inspecting the corn crop. Six yards away, and apparently entirely unaware that there was a human being anywhere within sight, was a large doe, also inspecting the corn crop.

Didn't Have Chance
"I just didn't have a chance!" George says. "When the deer discovered she had company, she took off, directly toward me. I was completely mowed down—what a mess we made of that corn!"

Sporting a limp after his battle with the doe, George noted that deer have often been known to jump over a man when being driven toward him by others in a hunting party. But this was his first experience in being, quite literally, run over by one!

The Honey Queen, a resident of Sheridan, Lebanon County, Pa., (she notes that there are six Sheridans in the State, but only her home town has a post office) locates the town halfway between Lebanon and Reading.

A 4-H beekeeper, Miss Konkle "really enjoys handling and working with bees." She also has a doll and coin collection, and enjoys doing all types and kinds of housework!

Finalists for the Honey Queen contest were selected by letters the girls wrote. At the State Beekeepers' meeting held at Valley Forge, the finalists were interviewed by a board of judges. They were asked all sorts of questions about themselves and about honey, and gave speeches and paraded before the judges.

"I was lucky enough to be chosen queen for 1959," says Miss Konkle, whose picture reveals that the judges knew whereof they chose.

The Honey Queen will appear on Saturday, September 5, and will be one of the judges in the baby parade at the local fair.

East Stroudsburg Municipal Authority Sets Tentative Borough Sewer System Figures

EAST STROUDSBURG MUNICIPAL Authority yesterday released tentative figures on costs to home and property owners who will join the new borough sewer system when it is constructed.

The authority emphasized that the figures are only tentative and that definite figures cannot be released until construction and bond bids are received by the authority.

The authority estimates are for an eight dollar assessment for each front foot, a $100 connection charge and a $58 yearly sewage rental charge.

In addition, the property owner will have to pay for costs of a line from the curb to his cesspool or sewer outlet.

They had a problem. They wanted to make a donation to the Monroe County Crippled Children and Adults Society.

Westbrook, although no longer treasurer of the organization, accepted their donation—two dollars—and promised to see that it gets to the right place.

Neighborhood Carnival
The four told him they had raised it during a neighborhood carnival.

The philanthropists are Frank and Barbara Margretta, 34 N. Third St.; Fred Wilder, 16 N. Third St.; and Billy Rowlands, 31 N. Second St.

He succeeds Frank L. Stackhouse, who died last week.

The authority adopted a resolution expressing its "sincere and heartfelt sympathy" to the family of Stackhouse, who had been a director since the authority was organized.

Dangerous Legislation

A bill which we sincerely feel is not in the interest of good government and economic purchasing procedures is now before the State Senate for a final vote.

Known as Senate Bill 702, the measure provides that the purchase of all school supplies would be completely removed from public notices advertising.

It also increases the amount of supplies that can be purchased.

The measure was introduced by Sen. Jo Hays (D-Centre) and Sen. Harry Seyler (D-York), referred to the Education Committee on April 28 and reported to the Senate floor without amendment last week.

Purchase of school supplies without bids opens the door to fraud, deceit and perhaps criminal waste of taxpayers' money. For that reason, the bill is a dangerous one and should be defeated.

We urge our two representatives in Harrisburg—Sen. William Z. Scott and Rep. Van D. Yetter — to oppose the measure during the floor debate and to do all in their power to defeat it when a vote is called.

The Hidden Taxes

The other day, in an editorial aside, we mentioned that somebody once figured there were 51 hidden taxes on a loaf of bread. Somebody, some time or other, did arrive at that figure. But that was a long, long time ago.

The Tax Foundation informs us that we were off base by exactly 100 hidden taxes. Bread—reflecting the taxes on the land it's grown on, the seed that's sown, the machinery that plows and harvests and mills the wheat, the fuel, the transportation, the baker, the wrapper and so on—contains 151 hidden taxes. And bread with added vitamins contains also added taxes.

Not only that: A man's suit of clothes bears a price tag representing 116 hidden taxes. Your house, or ours, or anybody else's, represents a compilation of at least 600 hidden taxes before you sign the mortgage. The egg and you add up to at least 100 hidden taxes even if you buy it in a place that has no sales tax.

So how much in taxes do you pay? Well, the Tax Foundation reports that the person of average $7,500 annual income pays $1,770 in direct federal, state and local taxes. Chances are the average person knows very well how much he pays directly to the tax collector every year.

What he doesn't know about are the hidden taxes the different governments reach down into his pocket to extract when he buys bread, eggs, meat and clothes.

And for the average family of $7,500 annual income, it adds up to a total of $1,770 but of $2,600—one-third of it taxes so well hidden the taxpayer doesn't know he's paying them.

The Pennsylvania Story

School Subsidy Crisis

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg — Pennsylvania school districts are facing a mounting financial crisis—and with a Legislature heading down the adjournment home stretch, also face the prospect of a little relief.

Biggest talking point on Capitol Hill on the increased school subsidy front centers around a $28 million increase, a figure brushed off for the most part by school administrators as a dribble in the fiscal bucket.

Other legislation would provide for a subsidy increase of $100 million. Another bill would raise this to around $200 million.

In all of this there are some hard facts facing local school districts and taxpayers.

For example, 1959-60 school budgets—already set—in several hundred school districts are balanced by heavy temporary loan deficit financing, by postponement of needed building repairs, delayed payment of obligations and similar emergency moves.

The salient fact is that these school districts—in spite of already heavy local tax increases—are substantially increased state subsidies in order to operate in 1959-60. They gambled that the Legislature would provide the funds.

Deficits—without state help—are in the offing, and are expected to pyramid on top of major tax increases already faced for 1960-61.

Importantly—the subsidy crisis falls for the most part on the rural and semi-urban third and fourth class school districts of the state, not the big city first and second class districts.

Pennsylvania education costs today seemingly are large, but Pennsylvania populationwise is a large state.

For example the current budget now being chewed over by the Legislature proposes an expenditure of more than $885 million for education alone. This is roughly 46.4 per cent of the near $2 billion budget—for general purposes alone—submitted by the Lawrence Administration.

Few will dispute the fact that this is a lot of money, and a big percentage of the revenue pie, but here are some interesting facts well worth facing:

—Pennsylvania today ranks tenth in the nation in personal income per child of school age; eighth in personal income payments per public school pupil, and twelfth in per capita personal income.

—Pennsylvania's average expenditure per pupil for the 1958-59 school year was $370 (17th in the nation), as compared with New York State's $535, New Jersey's $463, Little Delaware's $420, and New Mexico's $390.

—Pennsylvanians will pay more for liquor, more for tobacco and cosmetics, more for pleasure traveling during the 1959-61 biennium than for their schools.

—In great degree school costs today are determined by state law. It is up to local school districts to tag along somehow. Example: Teacher pay minimums are set by the state and must be met by local school districts.

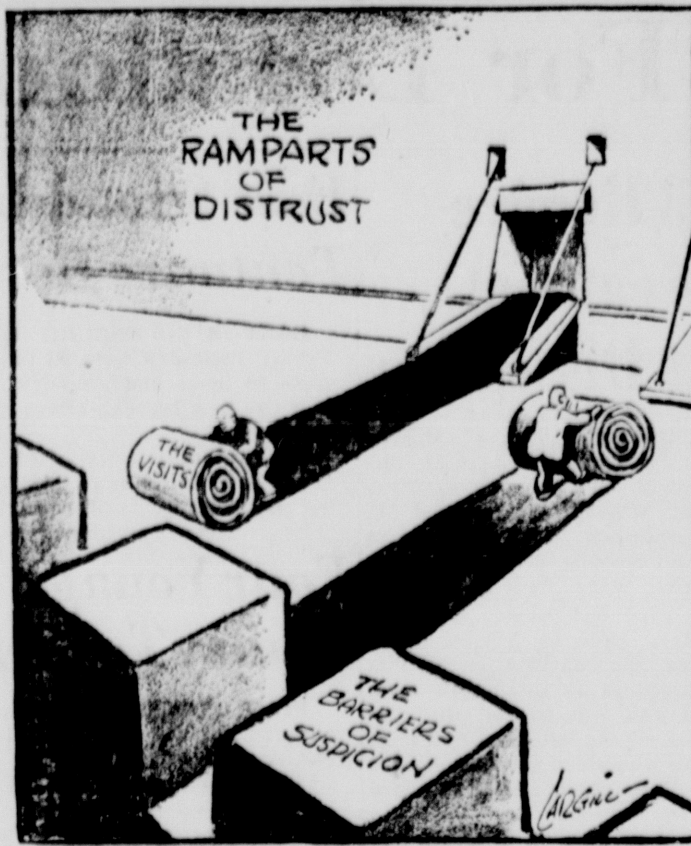

The state subsidy ratrace has become just that—a ratrace. To what extent is illustrated by the budgetary figures referred to earlier.

Ratrace or not, until the system is changed, the underwriting brunt falls on the state—and right now local school districts in too many instances have their backs up against the financial wall!

Cheers For Grandma

Dear Abby: Is there any help for us Grandmas? I raised eight children. My youngest is 14. My children keep sending me their kids for vacations. It makes no difference how I am feeling or what I have to do.

This year I turned over a new leaf. One daughter-in-law wrote that she was sending me all seven of her kids for three weeks. I wrote back, "Oh, no you aren't. You have a mother and three sisters. I will take part of them but not all seven at once."

My daughter lives in another state. She called asking me to take her five for all Summer. I said, "I took care of kids for 35 years and I am tired. Take care of your own kids."

My husband says I am a very mean person and will not go to heaven. Am I wrong?

TIRED GRANDMA

Dear Grandma: You are certainly NOT wrong. There is nothing "mean" about your refusal to let others take advantage of you. You've earned your retirement. Don't worry, Grandma, you'll get to heaven all right. But there's no sense in rushing.

Dear Abby: I am a teenager. I have already had my polio shots and my mother, who is 33, has taken hers, too. But my father said he wasn't going to take any because polio does not strike people after their late thirties.

Is he right about this or not? I think I read where a man 42 years old got polio.

WORRIED ABOUT DAD

Dear Worried: Your father is mistaken. Polio has stricken thousands of adults in their thirties, forties and even fifties. Tell your Dad if he loves his family he will get his polio shots immediately.

Dear Abby: I am engaged to marry a boy who works on the second shift. He is 25 and I am 21. He never sees me on a Saturday night. He tells me he is working but he will not give me any proof. Like showing his check stubs. He complains about not having any money from one paycheck to another, but if he works on Saturdays he should get time and a half.

Am I wrong in wanting proof that he is not lying? What should I do?

SMOOGVILLE on the Pacific: Oh Hollywood isn't that bad. It was sunny the day Tommy Sands met N.Y. model Bonnie Brandt at the airport. The advantages of higher education: Joanna Barnes, who has a Phi Beta Kappa key, will play in "Tarzan-Ape Man"... Remember the good old days of western movies when cowboys plugged the villains instead of the sponsors?

Dept. of Ho Hum: Faye Emerson and Edward Bennett Williams, lawyer for Frank Costello and Jimmy Hoffa, have found each other... Funny how Blue Angel's Diana Trask covers up the real one with Sinatra (who thinks he's it), Oleg Cassini and a Jersey auto dealer. Then returns to Ed Wynne's Starwyn to wait... If anyone is looking for background for a TV or movie series on gangsters, Nicky (Blair House) Blair is a well of information. He knew them all when. His stories are so hilarious, all you gotta do is tape 'em when he talks.

I'm still here (But where are they?) Tony Mirra, (the Tony Bender lieutenant) is operating those hang-outs near 56th & Lexington by "remote control" from an all-night restaurant in the E. 50s until the heat (meaning me) blows over... Winnie Brno Mauro, another Bender agent, delayed opening a new joint near 51st and First Ave. because his "shylock" frontman came down with a coronary. (He's in N.Y. Hospital).

Top O' The Morning: Intimates think the May Britt Ed Gregson split was for the publicity... Two youthful geniuses in a business-huddle at the smart Four Seasons: Roy M. Cohn, noted barrister and Bill Fugazy, whizz travel agent. (Now that the dirt has settled and we've had time to think, how about voting Roy a Distinguished Service Medal for his brave and selfless fight against the Reds at home and abroad? We need guys like him in Washington to tell us the truth about the enemy.)

Ditto on the Ditto: If Dick Brown is Eva Gabor's boyfriend why was he in the Vanderbilt's Purple Tree for cocktails with Iona Bata, another blonde Hungarian beauty and only 20... Terrific spread on Harvey Rosen's El Boracho in a current mag... Brando putting on weight. (He must be eating 10 dinners a night according to the different press agents)... A press agent insists that Kathy Karyle insists that she does not know Jo DiMaggio.

EX-FRIENDS
Dear Ex: Where there's smoke there is not always fire. Could be just someone smoking the peace pipe. Those who repeat gossip are as guilty, in my opinion, as those who start it!

Dear Abby: My child is 13 years old. He is rather nervous and high strung, and we were advised not to upset him. Lately I have been finding things that I know do not belong to him. He has confiscated other children's property in the past, and we have quietly returned it without making a fuss. We are worried because he has more money lately than he can save from his allowance. There has never been anything like this in our family before, and we want to know how to handle it. Thank you for a printed reply. No names please, as we are well known in this town.

MRS. NO NAME
Dear Mrs. N. N.: You do your son no favor by quietly returning objects "confiscated" by him without making a fuss. Stealing is a symptom of something which can be cured only with professional help. Get it at once.

Confidential To Troubled Conscience: Return the stolen articles and ask to be forgiven. Since this was your first offense you will probably be given another chance. It is doubly unfair to remain silent while suspicion falls on innocent parties.

Dear Abby: Boy, are you square! "S.W.A.B.K." means "Sealed with a big kiss." And "L.O.L." means "Loads of Love." —HEP

It seems that Mrs. John De Haven has long been a fan of Marvin's wait-

Phyllis claims she knew that nobody was playing a trick because the voice was exactly like Marvin's. Tony was actually spending the weekend at Shawnee Inn and Country Club. Somebody told him that Phyllis was his number one fan and Tony decided to make the call.

It was like a dream come true, Phyllis said after the conversation.

Adlai Not A Candidate

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington — Adlai Stevenson's devoted boosters are due for another discouraging setback.

Shortly after he returns from Europe next month, he will declare officially that he is not a presidential candidate by filing such a statement with the Secretary of State of Oregon.

This pronouncement is already drafted. It is modeled on the one issued by Senator Wayne Morse several months ago withdrawing himself as a "favorite son" prospect.

Under Oregon election laws, an individual's consent is not needed to enter him in the May presidential primary.

To prevent this, he must certify in writing to the Secretary of State that he is not a candidate and does not want his name listed on the ballot.

That's what Morse did when friends proposed running him, and Stevenson plans to use the same official eliminating procedure.

The 1952-56 Democratic standard-bearer is doing this on the advice of William Blair, his law partner and close adviser. Behind Blair's counsel is a series of frank talks with political lieutenants of Senators John Kennedy, Mass., and Hubert Humphrey, Minn.

They contended that Stevenson, by not taking himself conclusively out of the 1960 race, is hampering their organizing activities, particularly in such key primary states as Oregon and Wisconsin, where he is the first choice of some party leaders.

For this reason the two White House aspirants vigorously urged that Stevenson "clear the air" so his partisans would feel free to work for them.

Blair concurred in this stand, and discussed it several times by trans-Atlantic phone with Stevenson. They decided the most positive way to affirm Stevenson's repeated statement that he is not a 1960 candidate would be to follow Senator Morse's example.

A formal declaration very similar to his has been sent to Stevenson, and he will file it upon returning to the U.S.

Political — Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson, Tex., has been asked to be the main speaker at a big party rally in Los Angeles in November to raise funds for the national convention there next July. This very significant invitation was extended by Governor Pat Brown and the Los Angeles Hotel Committee.

Three New York leaders are maneuvering to head the state's powerful delegation to the 1960 convention — Mayor Robert Wagner, State Controller Arthur Levitt, Democrat to win in last year's Rockefeller landslide, and former Governor Averell Harriman, chief victim of that defeat.

Also bent on being delegates are former Senator Herbert Lehman and one-time Air Force Secretary Thomas Finletter, who are spearheading a drive to oust Tammany boss Carmine De Sapio.

Likely choice for vice chairman of the Senate Democratic Campaign Committee is Senator Vance Hartke. While a "rookie," the young Indianan has proved himself so able and popular that he is the foremost choice to replace Senator Hubert Humphrey, who is quitting this important party post because of his presidential ambitions.

The verbatim proceedings of the 1956 convention in Chicago will not be printed and sent to the delegates, as is the usual practice. Chairman Paul Butler has vetoed that because of lack of funds. He still hasn't paid off some $700,000 in debts from that convention and the subsequent campaign — and is not likely to.

North Carolina's wide-esteemed Gov. Luther Hodges will definitely be proposed for vice president at the Los Angeles convention. Plans to do that will be set in motion at the Southern Governors Conference in Asheville, N.C., in October. That's the word of Voit Gilmore, member of Hodges' staff.

Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson is giving marked signs of shifting to the views of his one-time boss, President Truman, and favoring Senator Stuart Symington. Until this recent development, Acheson had repeatedly claimed Senator Lyndon Johnson as "the strongest candidate we could nominate."

Truman is zealously boosting fellow Missourian Symington.

Senator Kennedy now plans to formally announce himself a presidential candidate in November. He has also definitely decided to run in the presidential primaries in New Hampshire, Maryland, Ohio, Wisconsin, Indiana, Illinois, Nebraska, and Oregon.

While he will not go into California's primary, Kennedy will spend a lot of time there. Already he has more than 40 speaking invitations, and has definitely accepted several in November. Primaries in other states are also under consideration.

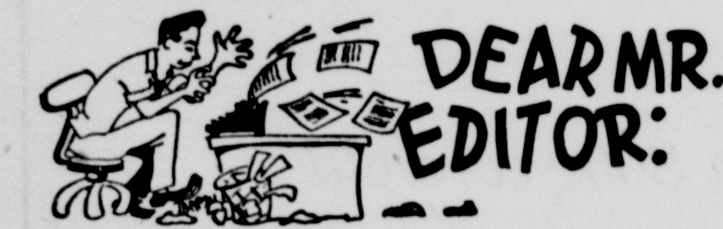

There can be little question but that the American educational system will be modified to meet national as well as individual needs.

We may go too far, as we usually do about everything. We may become over-selective. We may apply measurements of accomplishments that are too rigid.

But what matters now is that we are conscious, at least, that a university is something more than a lot of majorettes goose-stepping in front of a band. We are accepting, under the stress of the times, the university as a place for mature persons.

Progressive educators defended the school system, contending that the child was given latitude, freedom and was socially integrated. The question arose as to whether there was called social integration was not a device to kill off individuality.

The Daily Record

Dear Sir:

As unit commander of Company A 1st Battle Group, 109th Infantry Pennsylvania Army National Guard, I would like to thank you on behalf of the officers and enlisted men of this unit for the excellent newspaper coverage given us on our Annual Active Duty Field Training Period 1 to 15 August 1959.

In years past the communities in and around Monroe County have been aware of the presence of a National Guard unit. Never before, however, have they been as Guard conscious as they are now.

Many of the more prominent citizens have suddenly begun to realize the importance of a National Guard Unit in their community. These people now have a complete picture of what our mission is and more gratifying, they are sympathetic to what we are striving to do for the community, state and nation.

When this unit parades through the Stroudsburgs the next time, you will see a drastic change. Not only have we reorganized but like any good farmer tending his crops have done a considerable amount of weeding.

By that time everyone will be able to point with pride and truly say here is a military organization second to none. You have given us the necessary impetus to push us on to this goal. Through picture and story you have given us badly needed publicity.

Our grateful thanks for your generosity. Finally, a promise, that we will never cease striving to give the people of the community the finest unit in the Army National Guard.

P. S. This year the actual pay the men received to spend in this locality from the field training stint was $11,378.81. Five times a year the merchants get a little boost.

New Fashion Themes For The Younger Set

By Eleanor Ross
Take your pick of two important fashion themes that have inspired fall clothes for little girls from tots to sub-teens.

One theme, the major motif, perhaps, is the old-fashioned, sweet girl look. The other is frankly modern.

Both Popular

Both will undoubtedly find a place in every little girl's wardrobe, because prices are sensible and both types stress machine-washability, which means easy upkeep.

The old-fashioned look has with puffed sleeves, with long sleeves caught into ruffles at the wrist. Berthas and fichus soften the shoulder line. Tiny prints on calico recall covered wagon days.

There are prim collars and molded middieffs to express this theme.

Pinafores are separate dresses in themselves, to be worn with or without an underneath dress.

Toddler To Sub-Teen
Such fashions begin at the toddler ages and continue through the sub-teen sizes.

There is a trend toward pretty yokes and ribbon-threaded slips and petticoats.

Sunday dress-up fashions go in for butterfly sleeves, lantern sleeves and cape collars.

It's good that so many of these pretty clothes can be dryer-dried without need for any ironing at all, which is one reason, no doubt, that even such garments as the everyday petticoats have become friller and

Van Buskirk Reunion For Thirteenth Year

Panther — A reunion of the children of Mrs. Norma Van Buskirk was held at the Van Buskirk homestead on Sunday, August 16. The family and their guests totaled 60. This is the thirteenth year the family has gathered on the third Sunday in August in honor of their mother.

The fourteen living children were present. Two sons are deceased. Oliver, a soldier of World War 1 died in October, 1918. Rapha passed away in March of this year. The ice cube section of the refrigerator is not cold enough to freeze meat or keep it frozen for more than three or four days.

The kitchen of Mrs. John A. LeBar on Chipperfield Drive is predominantly white with a light maroon tile and gray and pink spatter linoleum on the floor. In one corner is an attractive arrangement of violets and greens which aids in making the kitchen attractive and less of a "chore room."

Mrs. George A. Stout on Crestview Road, uses much glass in her kitchen which is done in aqua and pink. A sliding glass door taken in the view which covers many of the walls are done in blonde maple or honey-birch wood and a print wallpaper which features square blocks of aqua, pink and white with a design. The divider between the dining room and kitchen is a china cupboard with sliding doors that may be opened from either side.

Mrs. Robert T. Owens, Crestview Road, has a small new kitchen done in shades of brown, white and orange, with brown and black spatter linoleum. Mrs. Owens describes her kitchen as small but efficient. The Owens' have three children and the washable type of wall covering that resembles paper is very practical.

Orlon-and-cotton layettes are new for Baby, as they have the look of cashmere and extra fluffy softness. This synthetic fiber is said to be more non-allergenic than other synthetic fibers.

Sleeping Bags
Sleeping bags feature double layers of fabric from blanket plaids to the daintiest florals. Appliques of storybook characters and animals are favorite decorations, often the only color note on solid white outfits.

You can be sure they're all safe to launder by machine, using soap or detergent suds. And they rarely need the touch of an iron.

Pre-Tour Of Kitchens Conducted

The Kitchen Tour sponsored this evening and tomorrow by the Business and Professional Women's Club is a tour! A tour from the old to the new, to the finished and unfinished, from pink and coral to red, from white to black, from town to country and up hill and down.

A pre-tour was held yesterday for the hostesses, the radio and the press. The group went on the Wyckoff bus, driven by Emmett Fabel, to about 17 of the 22 houses included in the tour. Yesterday's trip was broken by a stop for lunch at the Pennsylvania Power and Light Offices and a demonstration of a new electronic range soon to be available at moderate prices.

Every home seemed to have some new trick or design not seen in the others and in some cases the ideas were similar but each one had its own charm and beauty of design and arrangement that should not be missed.

It would not be possible to say which one you should definitely include in your individual tours either today or tomorrow but it is possible to mention some things to look for while in the different homes.

Mrs. J. C. Mullins' home at 514 Brown St., Stroudsburg was the first place winner in the tours held in 1956. Her main color scheme she calls "hot pink" and was taken from the color in the wallpaper print. This pink is used in the curtains, on the walls, at the table and touches of it are even seen in the icing on the cookies in the cookie jar. Sliding louvered doors conceal the pantry, and laundry section of the kitchen.

This idea was also seen in some of the newer homes included in the tour and perhaps the Mullins kitchen was the original.

The kitchen of Mrs. John A. LeBar on Chipperfield Drive is predominantly white with a light maroon tile and gray and pink spatter linoleum on the floor. In one corner is an attractive arrangement of violets and greens which aids in making the kitchen attractive and less of a "chore room."

Mrs. Owens describes her kitchen as small but efficient. The Owens' have three children and the washable type of wall covering that resembles paper is very practical.

Mrs. Lester Katz has designed her own home. The bright kitchen is done in yellow and is constructed in a narrow oblong shape to save walking. Louvered doors are used here and a wall refrigerator is a big feature. Mrs. Katz displayed her electronic oven which, as demonstrated at the PP and L Building, will cook cupcakes in five minutes.

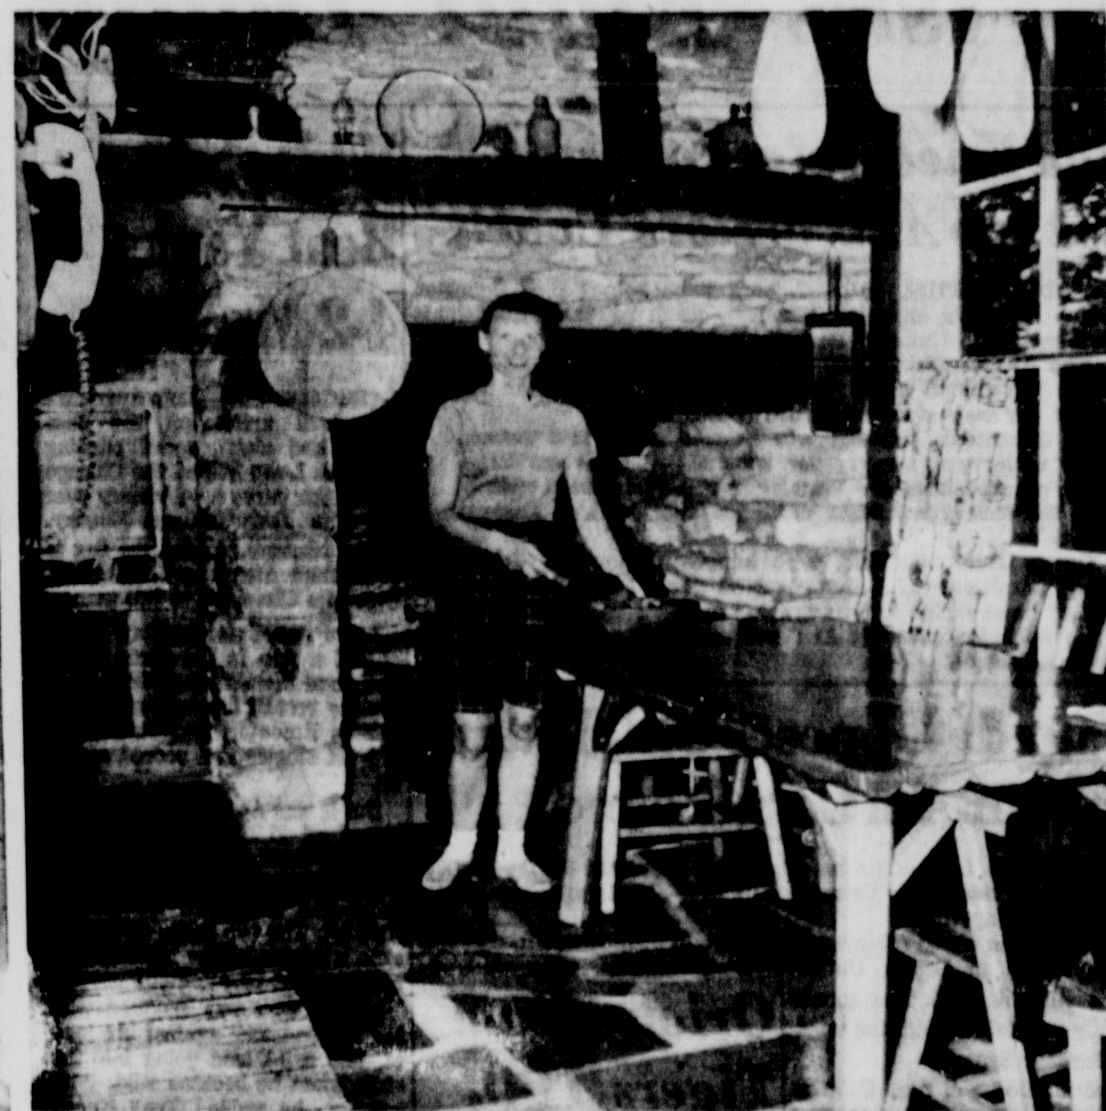

Mrs. Frederick Jones, 116 Washington Street, East Stroudsburg, has her kitchen done in aqua, brick, and birchwood. A barbecue grill is placed right in the center section of the kitchen. The mixer is no longer seen on the counter top as it is a motor below the counter surface which is used by placing the juicer, chopper, etc. in a plug like device on top of the counter. She has a warming oven, with dividers which works like a steam table in that she can keep a meal all ready and fresh for eight hours.

'ROUND AND ABOUT WYCKOFF'S—

Now here's a 65.00 question: why, at this particular date, would The Wyckoff Shopper receive a letter enclosing a cute little schedule of the Wellsville Braves baseball team? I've never been to Wellsville, baseball bores me, and the season is almost over! ... Glad to read the glowing notices of Ross Common Playhouse, and to observe that our Pen Argy friend, Johnnie Gruver, is back from her European jaunt and appearing in some of the closing plays ... Outfitting three children for school can be a mighty expensive proposition, as you may know. But we have some marvelous, thrifty buys here at Wyckoff's. One is the famous Dan River Wrinkl-Shed woven plaid cotton flannel shirt being offered in Bill Wells' boy's department at 1.98. This is real WOVEN plaid—not a print. It washes wonderfully; needs little ironing, says clean longer, resists perspiration odor, sheds wrinkles, and wears like iron, making a neat, sharp appearance all the while. Bill is really enthusiastic about it. Says it's one of the best buys he's ever seen for the money ... Just about the first thing my older son said to me when he arrived home from school was, "When we buy my new clothes, I want Bedford Cord Continentals. All the boys are wearing them this Fall." If he thought I didn't know about that, I fooled him. I had written an ad about 'em just a week before—and we have them in both the men's and boy's departments at Wyckoff's. Naturally! ... "It's like square to have a bad complexion, Dad," says Helena Rubinstein. And this grand lady of cosmetics has done something about a very common teen-age problem. Her "wash away blackheads kit" is a simple, effective solution. First step to a good complexion in immaculate cleanliness—so Beauty Grains for washing are an important ally. Second step is the use of the famous Dermoclean Beauty Mask to repair the skin with medications prescribed by skin specialists. This should be spread on the skin and allowed to remain 10 minutes. When you wash it off, blackheads and whiteheads go with it. Sounds simple? It IS simple. It's also sound common sense and inexpensive too. Usually the grains are 1.00, the mask, 1.25. Right now both are $2.00 plus tax ... Don't forget the Kitchen Tour this evening from 7 to 9:30, and tomorrow from 1 to 4:30 and 7 to 9:30. Sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club in behalf of Laurel Manor for the Aging, it will be fun ... Reading the newspaper ads, I see that the J. J. Newberry Company is selling the same Betty Barton cardigans we have been selling for so long, most successfully, in our Wyckoff sportswear department. These cardigans are fabulous—we recognized that long ago. They look well, wear well, are so versatile you can wear them as sweaters or blouses, and they come in a splendid array of colors, both solids and prints. For this reason, it is not at all surprising to find other fine stores everywhere advertising them. It is further interesting to note that the price is just the same—1.99, which proves once again that the individually owned department store is NOT necessarily higher priced than its chain-store competition, as is so often believed. Quality for quality, prices are pretty generally the same, in my opinion ... Remember the Happy Talk that came into being along with South Pacific? Now the happiest talk of all, fashion wise, is the Happi Coat, an adaption of the Chinese kimono, to be found at just 2.98 in our accessories department. These prettily printed, good quality coa's, come with matching belt, optional as to use. They are comfortable coats, with kimono sleeves, for comfort in bed while reading, wear over a nightie or pajama bottom, or use as a smock. Sorry I didn't discover them before when we had a full size range. Now only a few remain in M and L sizes. Each has an embroidered Chinese good luck symbol high on the left. They're so happy, they're not only high fashion, they're Hilarious!

Johansson Prefers LA As Bout Site

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP)—Heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson wants his rematch with Floyd Patterson postponed until early in 1960, and his advisor, Edwin Ahlquist, says he prefers Los Angeles as the site.

This information came out while translators and typists still were working on a new contract for the rematch Monday.

"Our demands have been met," Ahlquist said. "What remains is for our lawyers to check the translations." He added he was satisfied with the draft and it was up to the champion to accept it or reject it.

Johansson had been called out of town during the afternoon meeting to attend an Aero Club meeting at Boras, Jack Dempsey, promotional director of Rosenzohn Enterprises, Inc., earlier said all misunderstanding between the Irving Kahn-Vincent Velela group had been cleared up at a meeting Monday.

Smooth Way

Vellela, president of the reorganized Rosenzohn Enterprises, and Kahn, a director, accompanied Dempsey here to smooth the way to the return meeting.

A well-informed source said the Kahn-Velela group had made considerable concessions to meet the champion's demands.

"That part of the contract which stipulates a return match within 90 days will have to be rewritten," the source said.

Two Alternative Dates

The Americans have suggested two alternative dates for the rematch—one in October and one in November, Johansson, who already has ruled out Sept. 22 in New York for the bout, has expressed a wish to have the match postponed until early next year, primarily because of tax reasons, the informant added.

One of the factors making Johansson reluctant to commit himself on a return match was that he had not received a financial accounting on the June 26 bout in which he knocked out Patterson in the third round to win the title at Yankee Stadium.

Regard Matter Settled

Monday, Ahlquist, speaking on behalf of the champion, said: "We regard the first match as settled. We have been shown photostatic copies and given exactly the accounting we wanted. All is in order to our satisfaction."

In New York the New York State Athletic Commission announced it has notified Johansson that it is holding checks totaling $122,766.17 as the Swedish fighter's share of the June bout. The money is being held subject to provisions concerning a return bout.

Team 'Shaken' Shaw Reports

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Coach Buck Shaw of the Philadelphia Eagles said Monday his team got "a real shaking down" in Saturday's 24-21 loss to the Chicago Bears.

The Eagles played Chicago in Lynn, Mass.

Shaw said the Bears were "rough, tough and aggressive" but praised Philadelphia's big defensive line in harassing Chicago's three quarterbacks.

On the offensive side, Shaw expressed satisfaction in the play of two pass catchers, Tommy McDonald and Pete Rozell, and indicated both might turn out to be the best of their breed in the NFL.

Bad Knee Helps Johnston Get Job As Warriors' Coach

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A bum knee helped Neil Johnston achieve his life's ambition Monday—coach of the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Assn.

The former Ohio State star signed a one-year contract to become the fourth coach in Warrior history. He has been a star for the team since he turned pro in 1951.

Johnston's left leg was injured early last season. He underwent surgery for removal of some cartilage. His absence from the Warrior lineup contributed mainly to the team's last place finish in the NBA's Eastern division.

Owner Eddie Gottlieb, who happily announced Johnston's signing, admitted: "If I thought Neil could play full time I wouldn't have signed him as coach."

Johnston succeeds Al Cervi who quit after last season's debacle.

Canada Opposes U.S. Team In Pan-Am Cage Round

CHICAGO (AP)—The heavily favored United States basketball team Monday drew Canada as its first round opponent in Pan American competition.

The single round robin tournament will open with three games Friday night in Depaul University's Alumni Hall. Two games nightly will follow, with the wind-up Sunday, Sept. 6.

Puerto Rico will face Cuba in the first game starting at 5:30 p.m. EST, followed by the U.S.-Canada game and El Salvador's contest with Mexico.

Brazil sees its first action Saturday night, meeting Cuba after the United States engages Puerto Rico.

Each of the seven teams entered will play each other once. The team winning the most games takes the championship.

In case of a tie (such as records of 5-1, etc.), the team with the greatest point difference (the spread between points scored and opponent points) will be declared the winner.

The United States won the 1951 Pan American basketball title in Buenos Aires with an unbeaten record. The Americans lost once in the 1955 games in Mexico City, as did Argentina and Brazil, but was given the title on a point differential basis.

The 14-man squad representing Uncle Sam this year is pegged as the strongest ever assembled. Coached by Fred Schaus of West Virginia, assisted by Warren Womble of the Peoria Cats, the group averages 65 in heights.

Schaus says his tentative starting lineup includes Billy Evans (Bartlesville), Gary Thompson (Bartlesville), Oscar Robertson (Cincinnati), Jerry West (West Virginia) and George Bonville (Bartlesville).

"We have the personnel to do a lot of running and we definitely will use platoons at times," says Schaus.

The final game of the tournament will send the Yanks against Brazil and it could be the title-deciding contest.

Brazil was awarded the championship in Santiago, Chile, last winter in a tournament in which U.S. basketball prestige suffered a blow. A pickup squad of Air Force players represented this country and was trounced 62-37 by Russia and 81-67 by Brazil.

Oldster Wins Shoot

VANDALLA, Ohio (AP)—Fred Hansen, 72-year-old Lakewood, Ohio, marksman, broke 100 straight targets Monday for a repeat victory in the National Seniors Trapshooting Championship for men over 70, as the 60th Grand American Trapshoot opened.

"The rules are explicit. If Francona doesn't qualify there is nothing that can be done," said Joe McKenney, the circuit's publicity director and assistant to Joe Cronin, the president.

Francona, sparkplug of the Indians' pennant push, is hitting .379 with 238 official times at bat. Harvey Kuenn of Detroit is next with a .357 average.

Under the rules which were in effect three years ago, Francona would almost certainly qualify for the title with 400 official trips.

However, under the current regulation which fixes a minimum of 477 total appearances, the Indians' star is a certain ineligible.

White Sox Beat Yanks 4-2 Monday

CHICAGO (AP)—Luis Aparicio's dare-devil antics on the base paths and clutch relief pitching by Turk Lown helped the Chicago White Sox carve a 4-2 victory over the New York Yankees Monday.

The triumph enabled the Sox to boost their American League lead over idle Cleveland to two games.

Lown pulled starter Ray Moore out of a jam in the sixth inning and then blanked the New Yorkers the rest of the way while Jim Landis drove in two runs on a pair of singles and scored another.

But it was Aparicio who had the crowd of 21,923 cheering in the seventh inning when he led off with a walk, stole second, stole third and scored on Landis' infield hit. The two thefts gave Aparicio a major league leading total of 42 out of 52 attempts.

Moore, who was credited with his third victory against six losses, had a 3-1 lead going into the sixth when he became wild. With one out, he walked Tony Kubek and Mickey Mantle and after Yogi Berra fouled out, Elston Howard beat out an infield hit to load the bases. Hector Lopez walked to force in a run. Lown came in and made pinch-batter Norm Siebern fly out to end the inning.

Don Larsen took his seventh defeat in 13 decisions.

Dodgers Blast Phillies, 8-2, With Koufax

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Dodger left-hander Sandy Koufax allowed only 4 hits and fanned 13 Monday night as Los Angeles swamped Philadelphia 8-2.

Koufax gained his seventh victory against four losses.

Gil Hodges led the Dodger attack by batting in five runs, three on a homer into the left field stands in the second inning. It was his 20th.

The Dodgers made right-hander Ed Keegan's major league debut a brief one. Keegan, a bright prospect from Williamsport in the Eastern League, gave up four runs and four walks.

Reliever Jack Meyer and Ray Semproch held the Dodgers to one run and two hits after the second inning. Together with Koufax's strikeouts, they ran the number-fanned total to 24.

Norm Larker stroked his eighth home run in the ninth inning with no one aboard for the Dodgers' last run.

Braves' Hopes Renewed By Youngsters

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A return to form by Milwaukee's second line pitchers, especially the "kidie corps," has given the Braves fresh hope for a third straight National League pennant.

The Braves climbed into second place to within four games of league-leading San Francisco over the weekend. And their one-two punch of right-hander Lew Burdette and southpaw Warren Spahn didn't throw a pitch.

Bouncing back from criticism by Milwaukee owner Lou Perini, "kiddies" Carl Willey and Joey Jay hurled the Braves to a double header sweep of the Chicago Cubs Saturday. Veteran Bob Buhl mastered the Cubs 24 hours later.

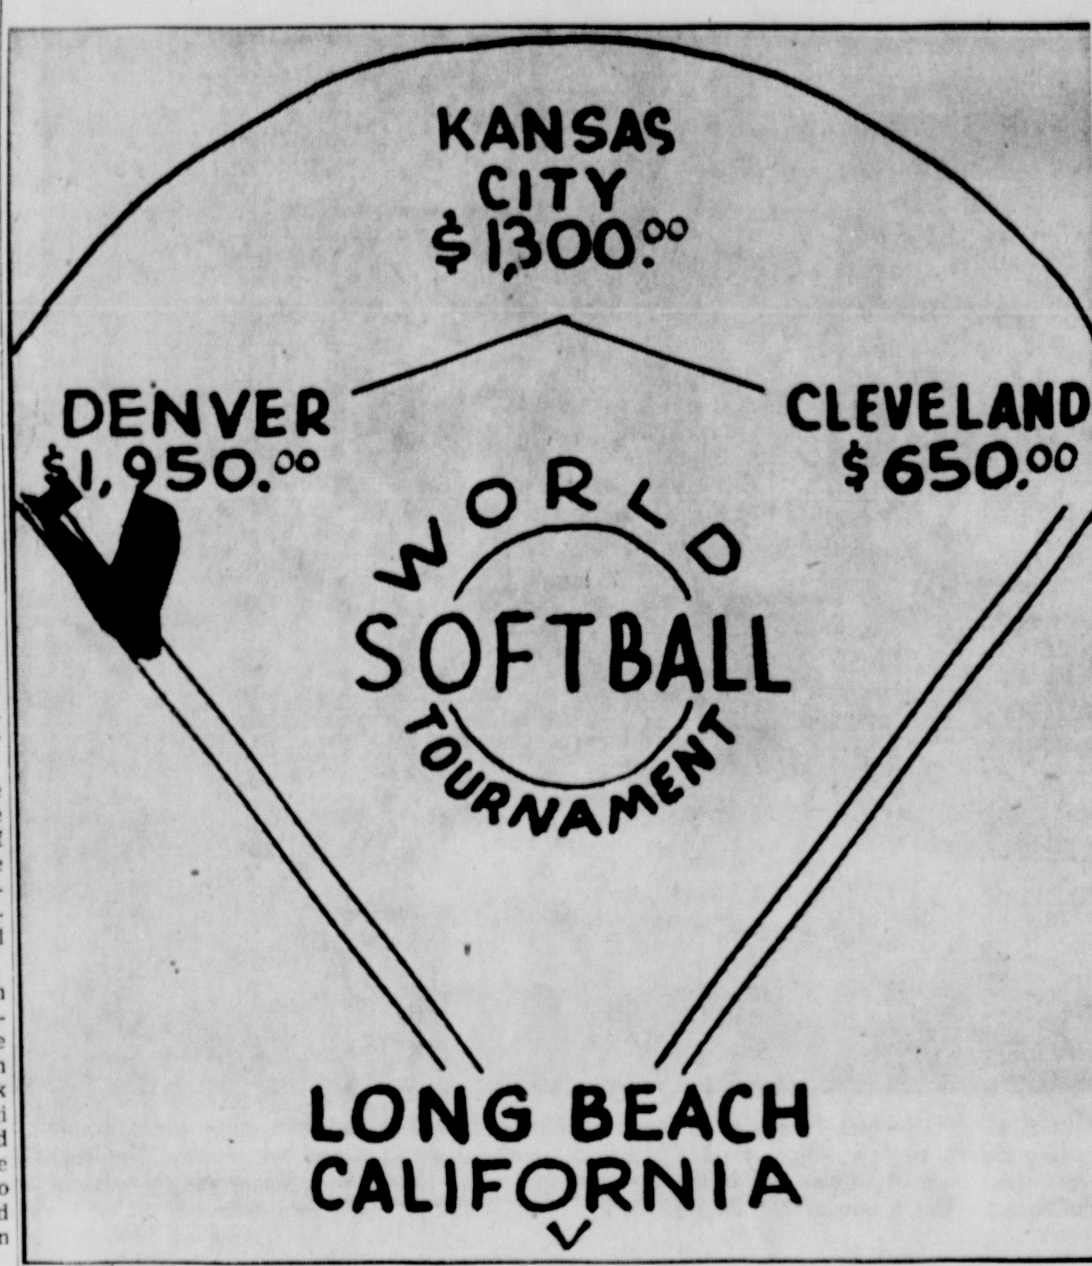

"Jay, Willey and (Juan) Pizarro are real good pitchers, but they're going to have to work harder to realize their potential," Perini said on his arrival for the Chicago series.

so Willey and Jay went out and showed their top boss some fine pitching.

Willey scattered six hits to blank the Cubs 7-0 for his first victory since July 5th. Jay followed by surrendering six hits and two runs in seven innings before retiring for a pinch-hitter as the Braves came from behind for a 3-2 triumph.

Willey and Jay were standouts in the second half of 1958 when the Braves pulled away to win the flag handily. But they've had their troubles this year, both blaming lack of steady work for their showings.

Bhutan Turns To India For Help

CALCUTTA, India (AP)—Little Bhutan, high in the Himalayas between India and Tibet, has been forced by trouble with Red China to abandon its historic isolation. Its prime minister said recently, Prime Minister Jigme Dorji said the Chinese Communists have blocked Bhutan's normal trade with neighboring Tibet. So Bhutan will turn south toward India and the outside world.

Bhutan is concerned about its border with Tibet, where Red China has been in control since 1951.

Asked about recent Red Chinese claims that Bhutan is part of Tibet, he declared: "If they try to take over Bhutan we will stand and fight. But who has the strength, in this area, to oppose the Chinese? We do not know who would help us."

Bhutan, 190 miles long and 90 miles wide, has a population of only 700,000 people. Its army numbers a few thousand men.

The prime minister said Red Chinese soldiers have pursued Tibetan refugees up to Bhutan's mountainous pass borders.

BEFORE—This is how a curve on Fifth St., near Fulmer Ave., Stroudsburg, looked before weeds were cut down by borough employees last Saturday. Carol Curnow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Curnow, 319 N. Fifth St., Stroudsburg, shows the limited visibility for children using special path on way to school. The visibility was also very limited for motorists traveling on Fifth St. This condition constituted a real danger for small school children using the path.

AFTER—Borough employees have cut down weeds which grew along N. Fifth St. at curve near Fulmer Ave. and obscured vision of pedestrians using crossing. Weed growth made it difficult for children enroute from Second and Third St. area to Ramsey School to see approaching cars, and for motorists to see children. Boys shown on footpath leading to crossing are (left to right) Thomas Shiffer, Bobby Stetler and Frederick Stetler.

Board Votes Petition For Release

GOULDSBORO — A petition for release from Wayne County jurisdiction was voted Saturday night by the newly constituted Lehigh Township School Board.

Motion for the petition was the first act of the board which was appointed by Judge Clarence E. Bodie on Friday.

The board is seeking to join the new North Pocono Joint School district in Lackawanna County. Last May a similar petition was turned down by the Wayne County board.

Board President
Russell G. Barnes, former president of the Lehigh Board who resigned in May, was reappointed a member and then elected president of the board.

Daniel Cucarini was elected vice-president, and Steven Carr, the only holdover member of the board, continues as treasurer.

Others elected to the board were Mrs. Madeline Rhodes and Kenneth Moore. Mrs. Lorraine Kinney was hired as non-member secretary of the board.

Board communications requesting release is expected to receive consideration in a special meeting of the Wayne County Board.

School Series

Teachers May Hit School Pupils

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the second in a series of 12 articles on education. They have been provided for The Daily Record by the National Education Assn. They will appear on an irregular schedule.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — What about corporal punishment in the schools? Is a teacher ever justified in striking a pupil — except in self defense?

Generally speaking, the answer is "yes." Again generally speaking, the common law regards the teacher as standing in the shoes of the parent, having not only the right but the responsibility to administer such punishment as may be reasonably required to maintain discipline. There are exceptions, and sometimes a fine line is drawn.

But the Research Division of the National Education Assn. has prepared a memorandum pointing out that only one state, New Jersey, prohibits the administration of corporal punishment.

Four states, Florida, Montana, Vermont, and Virginia, by specific statutes authorize corporal punishment. Three states have given statutory expression to the common law principle which places teachers in the role of parents, and many states, by statute, impose a specific responsibility on teachers to maintain discipline.

Local school boards, of course, in the absence of specific statutes authorizing or prohibiting corporal punishment, have the right to make their own regulations on the subject.

Some delegate the responsibility to the school principal. The general rule is that punishment, when administered, must be reasonable and without malice.

The issue is one that rarely reaches the courts. The National Reporter System notes only 60 reported cases of assault and battery against teachers in the past 125 years.

Since 1940 there have been only 10 such cases, plus three others in which the issue before the courts was school board actions taken against teachers against whom there were complaints based on corporal punishment.

In a 1953 Louisiana case the courts upheld the dismissal of a principal who had whipped a child with a window sash cord for being absent. Marks of the whipping persisted for three weeks and the punishment was held to be excessive.

But in another Louisiana case arising in the same year a teacher used a paddle on the buttocks of an eight-year-old boy who was the son of a school board member.

When the first paddle broke she got another and carried on with it. Marks of the whipping remained afterward. The school board transferred her to another school and placed her on probationary status. She took the case to the courts, which overruled the school board and found in her favor.
